

Defend education: Solidarity with Lambeth College strikers

From May 1st, UCU members at Lambeth College are taking indefinite strike action in defence of their contracts of employment.

These changes to our contracts include: loss of two weeks' holiday, cuts to sickness pay and extra working hours for no pay.

Lambeth College is a community college. It has been serving the community for many years providing a second chance to those who did not succeed in gaining the qualifications they desired at school.

The conditions that teachers teach in are the conditions that students learn in. These changes to our contracts will mean that staff will not be able to continue to deliver the excellent education that students deserve.

We call upon the trade union movement to support our fight to defend education by helping us defend conditions that people teach and learn in.

An injury to one is an injury to all.

Name	Workplace	Union	Donation

Please return to: Mandy Brown c/o Lambeth Trades Council, Hambrook House, Porden Road, London SW2 5RW

Please make cheques payable to J. Eldon and send to Mandy Brown at the address above.

Bank details: Halifax • Account name: J Eldon • Sort code: 11-01-07 • Account number: 11242869