

SUPPORT STRIKING FIREFIGHTERS

FIREFIGHTERS IN THE FBU union are striking against attacks on their pensions.

Brandon Lewis, the Tory fire minister, wants to force firefighters to work until 60 to get their full pension.

But the government's own report says two thirds of firefighters will not be able to continue working until that age!

If they are forced to retire earlier, they could lose half their pension.

We support the action being taken by the FBU and pledge to build maximum solidarity with their fight.
